Day 01

Cusco – Capuliyoc – Chikiska

Your Choquequirao Trek 5 Days begins with an early pickup from your hotel in Cusco at 4:30 a.m. We travel by private transportation for about 4 hours to Capuliyoc, where your trekking chef will prepare a fresh breakfast before the hike begins.

From Capuliyoc (2,950 m / 9,678 ft), we begin a scenic descent into the Apurimac Canyon. This first day introduces you to the scale of the Andes: wide views, warm valleys, changing vegetation, and dramatic mountain walls rising above the river below.

After several hours of hiking, we reach Chikiska (1,950 m / 6,398 ft), where our trekking team will set up camp and prepare dinner. Tonight, you will rest in comfortable tents and enjoy your first night under the Andean sky.

Day 02

Chikiska – Playa Rosalina – Santa Rosa – Marampata

Wake up early in your tent with a hot cup of coffee or coca tea served by your trekking team. After breakfast, we begin the day with a descent to Playa Rosalina (1,500 m / 4,921 ft), near the Apurimac River.

After crossing the river by bridge, the main climb of the day begins. We hike uphill toward Santa Rosa, where we will stop for lunch with beautiful views of the canyon and surrounding mountains.

This section is demanding, but your guide will set a steady pace and make sure the group moves safely.

After lunch, we continue the ascent to Marampata (2,940 m / 9,646 ft), one of the most beautiful viewpoints on the route. From here, you will enjoy wide-open views of the Apurimac Canyon and the mountains around Choquequirao. Tonight, we camp in Marampata, a peaceful place with clear skies and unforgettable views.

Day 03

Marampata – Choquequirao – Marampata

Today is the heart of the Choquequirao Trek 5 Days. We wake up early with hot drinks and breakfast while the mountains begin to light up around Marampata. After breakfast, we hike for about 2 hours toward the archaeological site of Choquequirao.

Unlike shorter itineraries, this 5-day trek gives you the time to explore Choquequirao properly. We will enjoy lunch near the Choquequirao area and spend the day visiting the most important sectors of the site with your guide, including plazas, terraces, ceremonial areas, viewpoints, and hidden corners that reveal the power and mystery of this remote Inca city.

Choquequirao means “Cradle of Gold” and is often called the sister city of Machu Picchu. Its remote location, dramatic mountain setting, and peaceful atmosphere make it one of the most special archaeological experiences in Peru. In the afternoon, we return to Marampata for dinner and another quiet night at camp.

Day 04

Marampata – Playa Rosalina – Chikiska

After a second morning in Marampata, enjoy breakfast with beautiful mountain views before beginning the return hike. We descend toward Playa Rosalina, passing through warm canyon landscapes, rural areas, flowers, birds, and wide views of the Apurimac Valley.

The descent can be hard on the knees, so trekking poles are very helpful. After reaching the river area near Playa Rosalina, we continue through the canyon toward Chikiska, where we will camp for the final night of the trek.

This is a perfect day to slow down, enjoy the surrounding nature, and feel the strength of the canyon one last time. At camp, your trekking team will be waiting with warm drinks, dinner, and comfortable tents for your last night on the route.

Day 05

Coca Masana – Capuliyoc – Return to Cusco

On the final day, wake up one last time with hot tea or coffee in your tent. After breakfast, we begin the final uphill hike from Chikiska to Capuliyoc. This last section is a strong but rewarding climb, with final views over the Apurimac Canyon and the route you have completed.

At Capuliyoc, we will enjoy a farewell lunch prepared by your trekking team. This is the moment to rest, take in the views, and thank the chefs, muleteers, and support staff who helped make the journey possible.

After lunch, we return to Cusco by private transportation and drop you off at your hotel in the late afternoon or early evening.
