Discover the Inca legacy in one magical day

The Sacred Valley of the Incas offers an amazing journey through some of the Peruvian Andes' most stunning and sacred sites, once inhabited by the Inca civilization. This tour kicks off with an early pick up from your hotel in Cusco and takes you to the fertile lands of the Valley. You will visit the alpaca farm, Taray viewpoint, Pisac Inca site, and the bustling Pisac Market. Plus, you'll enjoy a tasty lunch in a local restaurant in Urubamba.

In the second part, you'll delve into the unique village of Ollantaytambo, renowned for its well-preserved fortress and the scene of epic battles. It's also famous for its original Inca streets, which can still be explored today. To cap it off, you'll immerse yourself in Chinchero Village, where you'll interact with traditional weavers who've perfected their craft with alpaca wool for centuries.

This comprehensive Sacred Valley Tour is perfect for anyone who wants to experience the best of Peru in a single day. So don't wait any longer; book your spot on the Sacred Valley!

Full Itinerary

Cusco – Alpacas Farm – Taray Viewpoint – Pisac – Archeological Site of Pisac – Ollantaytambo – Chinchero

This Sacred Valley Tour starts at 8:00 am with a pick up from your hotel in Cusco. We will travel through the highlands around Cusco on our way to the Sacred Valley.

The first stop is at an alpaca farm, where you will get to know the famous South American camelids: llamas, alpacas, vicuñas, and guanacos, as well as learn about their differences, importance, and habits. From here, we'll reach Taray viewpoint, an observation platform where you'll witness the Sacred Valley's breathtaking vistas, including the Urubamba River and the farming lands in the Peruvian Andes.

The next stop is at the archaeological site of Pisac, an Inca village built on top of the mountain, of which we will explore its lower part. This extraordinary place boasts a complex of impressive temples, houses, and hundreds of tombs enclosed by gigantic walls. There are also agricultural terraces you can explore.

After visiting the site, we'll make our way to the local town and check out the Pisac handicraft market. This is a popular place for local craftspeople who manufacture their goods and sell them directly to tourists. From here, it'll be just 1 hour to Urubamba, where you'll enjoy a meal at a local restaurant. The restaurant offers a buffet-style meal with several options and fresh ingredients sourced from the area.

After lunch, we'll drive to the lovely village of Ollantaytambo, known as the "Last Living Inca City". There, we'll visit its impressive Inca fortress, the site of important battles and even the subject of an Inca legend. If time allows, we'll stroll through the colonial town nestled at the foot of the fortress. It retains its original Inca streets, still inhabited by local residents. Incidentally, Ollantaytambo is also the gateway to Machu Picchu.

The last place to visit is Chinchero, a royal estate and ceremonial center during the Inca Empire. It is said to have been a favorite of the 10th Inca King, Tupac Inca Yupanqui. During your visit, you will explore an Inca Palace, visit its colonial church, and learn about the local artisans' renowned weaving techniques and natural dyes.

The tour will end in the late afternoon, returning to your hotel in Cusco around 6:00 pm.

What to wear

Trekking days can bring sun, wind, rain, and noticeable temperature shifts. That's why dressing in layers and choosing comfortable hiking clothing matters. The goal is to adjust easily as conditions change, staying dry and warm when needed.

Walking shoes

Hiking pants/trousers

Fleece

Waterproof and windproof jacket

What to put in the Daypack?

Sun hat or cap with neck cover

Sunglasses

Beanie or chullo

Buff or bandana

Snacks

Camera + extra batteries

Power bank

Your daypack should hold only what you'll use while hiking. Focus on hydration, weather protection, and personal items you want within reach. Keep it light and easy to access, so you can walk comfortably without stopping to dig for things.
